Program Descriptions and Eligibility Criteria

HUD Section 220 - Rental Housing for Urban Renewal and Concentrated Development Areas

Section 220 insures loans for multifamily housing projects in urban renewal areas, code enforcement areas, and other areas where local governments have undertaken designated revitalization activities.

All families are eligible to occupy a dwelling in a structure where the mortgage is insured under the program, subject to normal tenant selection. Contact the property to determine availability and eligibility.

HUD Section 231 - Rental Housing for the Elderly

The Section 231 insures mortgage loans to facilitate the construction and substantial rehabilitation of multifamily rental housing for elderly persons (62 or older) and/or persons with disabilities.

All elderly or persons with disabilities are eligible to occupy apartments in a project whose mortgage is insured under the program. Contact the property to determine availability and eligibility.

HUD Section 202 Supportive Housing for the Elderly

HUD provides capital advances to finance the construction, rehabilitation or acquisition with or without rehabilitation of structures that will serve as supportive housing for very low-income elderly persons, including the frail elderly, and provides rent subsidies for the projects to help make them affordable. Some supportive services may be available on the premises.

Occupancy in Section 202 housing is open to any very low-income household comprised of at least one person who is at least 62 years old at the time of initial occupancy. Contact the property to determine availability and eligibility.

HUD Section 811 Supportive Housing for Persons with Disabilities

HUD provides funding to nonprofit organizations to develop rental housing with the availability of supportive services for very low-income adults with disabilities, and provides rent subsidies for the projects to help make them affordable.

In order to live in Section 811 housing, a household which may consist of a single qualified person must be very low-income (within 50 percent of the median income for the area) and at least one member must be 18 years old or older and have a disability, such as a physical or developmental disability or chronic mental illness. Contact the property to determine availability and eligibility.

HUD Section 221 (d) Rental and Cooperative Housing

Section 221(d)(3) and 221(d)(4) insures mortgage loans to facilitate the new construction or substantial rehabilitation of multifamily rental or cooperative housing for moderate-income families, elderly, and the handicapped. Single Room Occupancy (SRO) projects may also be insured under this section.

All families are eligible to occupy dwellings in a structure whose mortgage is insured under this program, subject to normal tenant selection. There are no income limits. Projects may be designed specifically for the elderly or handicapped. Contact the property to determine availability and eligibility.

Housing Credit

The Housing Credit (HC) program provides tax incentives for the development of multifamily housing for families whose incomes are less than 60 percent of area median income.

Contact the property to determine availability and eligibility.

HUD Home Investment Partnerships Program (HOME)

The HOME Program provides funds for tenant-based rental assistance, construction of new rental units or rehabilitation of existing rental units. Requirements for tenancy vary according to activity and each project's tenant selection plan may be different.

Contact the property to determine availability and eligibility.

Project-Based Section 8

The Section 8 program helps low and very low income families pay their rent. Eligible tenants must pay the higher of either 30 percent of their adjusted income or 10 percent of their gross income. Many Section 8 apartments are reserved for the elderly. A small portion of the units are specially designed for the mobility impaired.

Contact the property to determine availability and eligibility.

Rural Development

The Rural Development Program serves low and moderate income families in rural areas. Low income senior citizens or families paying rent of more than 30 percent of their adjusted annual incomes can qualify for rental assistance. In properties not offering rental assistance, tenants pay the greater of 30 percent of adjusted income or the base rent. Low-interest rate loans are made to owners to reduce the rents (including utilities) paid by low income tenants.

Contact the property to determine availability and eligibility.

Affordable Housing Trust Fund, KHC Small Rental Program

These are two housing programs funded by KHC to finance affordable rental housing for low income families.

Contact the property to determine availability and eligibility.

Public Housing

Public Housing programs serve low and very low income families with rents based on the same formula used for Project--Based Section 8 assistance.

Contact the property to determine availability and eligibility.

HUD Section 236

The HUD Section 236 Program serves lower-income families who contribute no more than 30 percent of their adjusted income or a base amount toward rent, whichever is higher.

Contact the property to determine availability and eligibility.

Group Homes (GH)

Group Homes may be subsidized under the Section 8 Program. The homes are designed for occupancy by individuals who are physically or developmentally disabled or chronically ill. Group homes administered by KHC are designed only for individuals who are developmentally disabled or chronically mentally ill.

Contact the property to determine availability and eligibility.
